Already a member? Manage your employee discounts

Are you already a member – and do you want to simply take advantage of practical benefits? From your My Sunrise customer account, you can easily add or extend current employee discounts on existing subscriptions yourself.

You can extend discounts using your business e-mail address or by providing proof of membership of the employee program.

Please note: To conclude new contracts on the phone or at a Sunrise shop via the Information and Ordering Portal, as well as to extend or apply discounts to existing Sunrise subscriptions, you will need your business e-mail address or, alternatively, a verification form to prove you are a member of the employee program. The form is available on the Information and Ordering Portal or on your employer's Intranet.
